John - I just saw this & I wish I could have passed along the following before you sent out the attached tasking. I had a conversation with Bob Davis and John Plaschal of the HAC staff about this. Their feeling was that there were several "obvious" (to them) questions about this reprogramming that should have been anticipated; yet, no one seemed to have a good handle on all of the background attendant to this reprogramming. They eventually got the information they were seeking when another HAC staffer happened to be at an Air Force installation and asked the right question of the right people. Messrs Davis & Plaschal said that it was obvious that people were trying to be cooperative, and there was no perception on their part that anyone was "stone-walling" the Committee on this; it just seemed like there wasn't a very good job done in coordinating and scrutinizing this request before it got to the Committee. I'm not sure a formal response is either called for, or wise in this instance. I think the better course might be to informally assure them that we hear what they're saying, that we do try to anticipate the Committee's questions, and that we appreciate the feedback & will stay on top of these actions. Your thoughts?
